

Monitoring Real Device Performance for Automated Tests

Return to the Product Announcements and Release Notes Blog

Sauce Labs is happy to announce Real Device Cloud support for monitoring mobile performance for automated tests.

By including the desired capability `recordDeviceVitals` in your Appium test script, you can collect performance statistics for the real devices used in your tests, including CPU, Network, Memory, and Thread performance.

Usage information and further info can be found here.

Happy testing,
