

Android 9.0, now available on Sauce Labs emulators

As we continue our mission to provide our users with the best coverage for testing applications, we are happy to announce that Sauce Labs now supports Android 9.0 on emulators. Our Platform Configurator has also been updated to reflect this newest version.

Due to changes in Android 9.0, there is a known issue with testing HTTP websites employing unencrypted end-points with Sauce Connect. Please see the linked documentation for details and work arounds.
