

Viewing and Managing Test Results

As you run your tests, you'll see the results on your Sauce Labs dashboard. From there you can:

- Watch a video recording of the test
- Review the commands that were issued
- Read the test log
- View the test metadata

You can also manage the results of past tests and builds on the Archives page, and use status badges on your code repository or a web page to keep track of your latest test runs.